Inaugural Group Show

November 16th – December 7th, 2024
Chaussée d'Ixelles 337 | 1050 Brussels

opening reception
on Saturday, November 16th from 11 AM to 8 PM

Galerie Martel is delighted to announce the opening of a new exhibition space in Brussels, an essential capital of contemporary art.

Founded by Rina Zavagli in 2008 with a commitment to championing artists who share the same ambition, Galerie Martel is dedicated to exploring new creative territories and breaking down the barriers between various forms of expression (illustration, painting, comics, animation, and more). It was one of the very first galleries to recognize the significance of comics, promoting them in its exhibitions as a legitimate art form.

With a commitment to representing the richness and diversity of graphic arts, Galerie Martel supports internationally renowned artists but also strives to give a platform to creators from diverse backgrounds as well as emerging talents. By showcasing their work, the Gallery aims to explore a wide stylistic and narrative spectrum.

These varied collaborations have allowed it to develop a unique identity, reinforcing the continuum of graphic arts by helping to shape a new horizon, free from boundaries.

Located on Chaussée d'Ixelles, this new gallery space, with two flower-filled patios, offers a unique setting for visitors to admire the works of the creators with whom we collaborate.

And it's with undisguised joy that we inaugurate this new venue with a unique collective exhibition. This show brings together the artworks of many artists who have shaped our identity over the past fifteen years.

“The opening of this new gallery, the result of several years of work, marks a major milestone in our history. We are proud to now offer simultaneous exhibitions in the cultural hubs of Paris and Brussels.”
